

My wife and children listen to K-LOVE daily as they drive from school to sports practices, to birthday parties. They spend a lot of time in the car. I value the fact that they can listen to K-LOVE radio station and not hear the inappropriate implications that most modern music sends out. I also appreciate the fact that they don't hear the sometimes vulgar comments of the DJs. K-LOVE is an asset to the well-being of my family.

I know for these same reasons, K-LOVE is an asset to the community who is able to listen to the station as well. Without it I guess my family could listen to Radio Disney, but even some of the songs coming from the younger pop stars are increasingly inappropriate for families with school aged children. For this reason, K-LOVE needs to stay on the air in my community.

The reasons listed above are also the reasons I believe that it is in the best public interest to leave K-LOVE on the air for families to share in and find a "safe haven" from the unpredictable world of media.
